

CHILD PROTECTION IN THE CONTEXT OF CLIMATE CRISES: ADDRESSING INTERSECTIONALITY IN HUMANITARIAN ACTION

HYBRID EVENT AT HNPW 2025

26 March 2024

9:00 – 10:30 CEST

THE CLIMATE CRISIS EXACERBATES CHILD PROTECTION RISKS, THREATENING THE SAFETY, MENTAL HEALTH, AND PSYCHOSOCIAL WELL-BEING OF CHILDREN, AS WELL AS EXACERBATING INEQUITY THROUGH ITS INTERGENERATIONAL IMPACTS.

This session will explore the intersection of child protection and climate crises in humanitarian contexts by:

1. Drawing insights from the 2024 Learning Needs Analysis on the intersectionality of the climate crisis and child protection
2. Deep diving the into the evidence on increased CP risks in climate-induced disasters
3. Bringing in local and/or national organisations to learn good practices from existing humanitarian contexts

Expected Outcomes:

- Increased understanding of the intersectionality of child protection and climate crises.
- Learning from examples of adaptations to enhance child protection in climate-affected humanitarian settings.
